- African and samba drumming
- Glockenspiels, ukuleles, keyboards and a whole plethora of percussion instruments in between.
- The children will also be encouraged to get creative and compose their own music using, amongst other things, junk percussion.

Craft Activities

- The children will take part in a variety of craft activities, some of which will have a musical theme.
- Where possible the children will use recycled or recyclable materials to make their crafts.

CRAFTY MUSICIANS

Course Leaders

Julia has worked in education for 28 years, starting as a peripatetic teacher in Barnsley before training to be a secondary school teacher and working in London schools for 4 years. Since arriving in Jersey in 2001, Julia has worked at Le Rocquier School and Jersey College for Girls as well as for the Jersey Music Service. Julia currently works at Plat Douet and St Martin's primary schools teaching music.

Naomi began working for the Jersey Music Service in 2015 and spent three years teaching piano and woodwind instruments as well as conducting the Training Wind Band. She then completed her PGCE training at the University of Manchester in 2019 and then worked La Moye Primary School for 3 years. Naomi returned to the Jersey Music Service to take up a post that combines both instrumental and classroom teaching. Naomi has a particular fondness for arts and crafts and encouraging creativity.

Naomi Koester and Julia Arnett joined forces in 2020 to deliver music and craft courses for primary school aged children in the holidays. We are delighted to be working with the Jersey Academy of Music to provide a summer course this year at Chateau Vermont.

The aim of the week is for children to acquire some new skills but most importantly have lots of fun!
